NOTING THE PACK

YOUTH MOVEMENT

NC State will field one of the youngest teams in school history in 2014, as 70% of the players on the fall roster will be either freshmen or sophomores. The current roster includes just 15 juniors and 18 seniors, the lowest number of upperclassmen for the Wolfpack since the 1995 squad was made up of just 27.

Last year, there were 46 juniors and seniors on the spring roster. In the last 10 years, the average number of upperclassmen has been 45.7.

Here's a look at the class breakdown of the Pack's spring roster, combined with the players expected to join the team this fall:

33	freshmen
21	redshirt freshmen
22	sophomores
15	juniors
18	seniors
109	70%

Bo Hines was one of nine true freshmen who joined the Pack in January and went through spring drills. He caught 10 passes for 132 yards in the Kay Yow Spring Football Game.

TOUGH COMPETITION

NC State has the distinction of being just one of 20 FBS programs that will face three teams that finished the 2013 campaign ranked in the top 15 nationally. The young Wolfpack will face those three opponents (defending national champion Florida State, Clemson and Louisville) in a four-week span from Sept. 27 to Oct. 18, with two of the contests on the road.

Five ACC schools will play three teams that finished in the top 15 in the AP Poll last year, and all five are in the ACC's Atlantic Division.

FRONT IS BACK

Although the hallmark of the 2014 Wolfpack squad may be youth, there is one position that will benefit from age and experience. The most experienced Wolfpack players on offense or defense in terms of career starts both happen to play on State's defensive line.

With 25 career starts, defensive end Art Norman has started more games than any returning player with the exception of punter Wil Baumann and placekicker Niklas Sade. Tackle Thomas Teal is right behind with 24 starts.

Three other returnees on the d-line have also started games, including tackle T.Y. McGill (13 starts), tackle Monty Nelson (five starts) and end Mike Rose (four starts).

Art Norman and T.Y. McGill have 38 career starts between them.

In all, the defensive line returns 71 starts for its four positions. The offensive line also returns 71 total starts, but that number includes five starting spots.

Here's a look at the number of games started among returnees at each position in 2014:

Position	Ret. Starts
Defensive line	71
Offensive line	71
Def. Secondary	45
Running Back	25
Linebackers	19
Wide Receiver	15
Tight End/Fullback	13
Quarterback	0

LEGACY

Although Wolfpack head coach Dave Doeren is focused on his team's future,

Former Wolfpack players from several decades enjoyed the first annual alumni game this spring.

he also values the rich history of NC State football. Not only has he continued the tradition of the yearly Players' Reunion, but in 2014, instituted a new tradition of hosting an Alumni Game prior to the Kay Yow Spring Football game.

Doeren has also embraced the Pack's past with some of the hires he has made. Several former players are on his staff in various roles, including three former Pack linebackers.

Here's a look at the former players who are working with Pack football.

Name	Position	Pos. as player	Years Played
Dantonio Burnette	Asst Head S&C Coach	LB	1999-02
Al Byrd	Chaplain	SE/CB	1986-90
Jake Kahut	Defensive GA	DT	2013
Sterling Lucas	Defensive GA	LB	2009-12
Jimmie Sutton	S&C GA	CB	2005-07
Clayton White	Safeties coach	LB	1997-2000

POST-GRAD PACK

NC State's football program is enjoying unprecedented success in the classroom. The squad currently posts its highest team grade point average in at least two decades and eight members of the 2014 Wolfpack squad have already earned their degrees from NC State, including two players who are just juniors in terms of eligibility.

The offensive line is particularly laden with post-graduates. Tackles Tyson Chandler and Andy Jomantas and guard Joe Thuney have already turned the tassel.

Name	Pos.
Benson Browne (Jr.)	TE
Jarvis Byrd	S
Tyson Chandler	OT
Tony Creecy	RB
Andy Jomantas	OG
Art Norman	DE
Tyler Purvis	FB
Joe Thuney (Jr.)	OG

Jarvis Byrd is one of eight current players who has already graduated from NC State.

PACK IN THE FRONT OFFICE

Not only does NC State boast an impressive number of former players on NFL rosters, but the Wolfpack also is becoming a pipeline to the league's front offices.

All-ACC guard Steve Keim (1992-95) has been the General Manager of the Arizona Cardinals since January of 2013 after previously serving as Vice President of Player Personnel, Director of College Scouting and as a regional scout.

His Wolfpack teammate, Morocco Brown, who played linebacker from 1994-

Former Pack offensive guard Steve Keim is one of several alums who is now working in an NFL front office. Keim is the general manager of the Arizona Cardinals.

97, was recently named Vice President of Player Personnel for the Cleveland Browns after spending six seasons as Director of Pro Personnel for the Washington Redskins.

When Brown left for the Browns, another former State player, Alex Santos (1996-99), took over as the Director of Pro Personnel at Washington after working in the personnel department for seven years.

Another former State linebacker is in charge of the Pro Personnel department in Chicago, as Kevin Turks (1995-98) holds that position with the Bears.

Several former players are also working as NFL scouts, including John Ritcher (2002-05) with the Cardinals, Harrison Ritcher (2007-09) with the Browns, Darrell Moody (1968-70) with the Bills, and Ray Agnew (1986-89) with the St. Louis Rams.

NEWBIE AT QB

One luxury that Wolfpack head coach Dave Doeren has not had during his brief tenure at NC State is an experienced quarterback. Last season, Doeren inherited a roster that did not boast a returning starter at quarterback.

In 2013, the starting job was up for grabs between two transfers, Pete Thomas and Brandon Mitchell. Each had played 21 games at their previous schools (Thomas at Colorado State and Mitchell at Arkansas) but there wasn't a quarterback on the roster that had ever played a snap for the Wolfpack.

This season, another transfer enters fall camp as the starter. Jacoby Brissett played in 13 games at Florida, starting three, and was the first player in Gator history to ever take his first career snap as the starting quarterback. Walk-ons Garrett Leatham and Josh Taylor combined to play 39 snaps last season.

Jacoby Brissett has played in 13 games in his career, but will take his first snap for the Wolfpack this fall.

THE WORD ON BYRD

When Jarvis Byrd earned the starter's job at boundary corner as a true freshman in 2009, he thought he would be long gone from NC State by 2014. After starting so early in his career, his plan was to be a senior in 2012. But six seasons later, the Pahokee, Fla., native is once again on the Wolfpack roster.

Byrd, who has already earned his undergraduate degree, has suffered three torn ACLs during his career - one in 2009, one in 2011 and another in 2013. He was granted a sixth year by the NCAA and is working hard in rehab to try to get back on the field. He has played in just 14 games during his career between injuries, including starting the first five games of 2013 at safety.

TALL TIGHT ENDS

NC State boasts a tall quintet of tight ends on its 2014 roster, as five members of that group measure 6'5 or taller. The Wolfpack is the only school in the Atlantic Coast Conference to have as many members of that position group checking in at 6'5 or taller. Duke has four, Clemson and Miami have three and no other league school has more than two.

Here's a look at the 'Pack's tall tight ends for 2014:

Benson Browne	6'5
Cole Cook	6'5
David J. Grinnage	6'5
Micah Till	6'6
Lucas Wilson	6'5

QBU

Last season, almost 10 percent of the National Football League's starting quarterbacks were NC State alums. No other school in the nation boasted three starting signal callers in the NFL and only two other schools had two (Florida State and USC).

Philip Rivers, who still holds the ACC career record with 13,582 yards of total offense, is in his 11th season with the San Diego Chargers in 2014 - his ninth as the starter.

Russell Wilson, who ranks eighth on the ACC's career total offense charts, led the Seattle Seahawks to a victory in Super Bowl XLVIII in his second season in the league.

Mike Glennon started 13 games for the Tampa Bay Bucs as a rookie last season. Glennon, a third round selection in the 2013 draft, ranks 30th in ACC history in total offense and was a two-year starter for the Wolfpack.

Philip Rivers will be in his ninth season as the starter for the San Diego Chargers in 2014. He was one of three former Pack quarterbacks to start for an NFL team last season.

ISN'T THAT SPECIAL?

One of the most unique facts about the 2014 Wolfpack football squad is that its special teams trio of placekicker, punter and long snapper are all entering their fourth season as the full-time starter at their position.

Kicker Niklas Sade, a semifinalist for the 2013 Lou Groza Award, and LS Scott Thompson have each started 38 games in their Wolfpack careers. Punter Wil Baumann missed just one start due to a pregame injury in 2011 (he did hold for extra points in that contest but did not punt).

Baumann currently ranks third in school history in career punts and punting yards, while Sade holds the school record for PATs (121) and ranks fourth in career field goals. Thompson was named an All-American at his specialized position by Phil Steele in 2013.

Punter Wil Baumann (who also serves as holder) and kicker Niklas Sade are each in their fourth year as a starter.

STARTERS SIDELINED

The 2013 Wolfpack was pounded by injuries. A total of 65 games were lost by starters due to injury.

HOMETOWN HEROES

The 2014 Wolfpack roster boasts 19 players from the Triangle area (Raleigh, Durham, Cary, Apex, Wake Forest).

SMALLEST LOSERS

The Wolfpack lost only six fumbles in 2013 - the third lowest total in the nation and a mark that tied the school record.

PACKED SUPER BOWL

Only one other school had more former players compete in Super Bowl XLVIII than NC State. Nate Irving was on the Denver Broncos squad, while Russell Wilson, Stephen Hauschka and J.R. Sweezy all played for the Seattle Seahawks.

HEAD COACH DAVE DOEREN

Pronunciation: DOOR in

"I didn't take any shortcuts to get here. I've been coaching 17 years at the college level and I've lined the fields and driven the bus. I was a GA twice. I've coached high school. I've been a I-AA non-scholarship coach. I've been a I-AA scholarship coach. I've been an assistant coach. I've been a co-coordinator, a recruiting coordinator, a head coach at a mid-major and now I'm standing here in the ACC and I'm jacked up about it."

Dave Doeren, Dec. 2, 2012

When Dave Doeren was first introduced as head football coach to Wolfpack Nation at a press conference on Dec. 2, 2012, his opening statement concisely told the story of who he is and what he stands for - providing an accurate snapshot of Dave Doeren the football coach and Dave Doeren the man. In those few short sentences, he displayed the attributes that made him NC State's first choice when it came time to find the 34th coach in program history: his experience, his work ethic and his passion.

A VARIETY OF EXPERIENCES

As he stated on that December afternoon, the 42-year-old Doeren has packed a lifetime's worth of coaching experience into just 20 years. He has drawn on that experience as he seeks to rebuild and remold the Wolfpack football program as he has brought in a young and vibrant staff, brought in one of the nation's top recruiting classes in 2014 and saw his squad post its highest GPA ever.

He came to NC State after leading the program at Northern Illinois for its most successful two years in program history. His first Husky squad won the school's first Mid-American Conference Championship since 1983 and tied the school record with 11 wins. His second version repeated as league champions and set a new school record by posting 12 victories for the season and earning a trip to the Orange Bowl - the first BCS berth ever for a MAC school. Doeren was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards following the 2012 campaign.

Under Doeren's leadership, NIU boasted the nation's longest conference winning streak with 17 straight wins versus MAC opponents. The Huskies never lost a home game during his tenure in DeKalb, winning a dozen home contests in his two seasons to extend the nation's longest home winning streak to 21 games.

During his two years at NIU, eight players earned all-conference accolades, and one of his quarterbacks won the MAC's Vern Smith Leadership Award - given to the league's MVP - each season. The Huskies' Academic Progress Rate (APR) ranked among the top five nationally as well.

Northern Illinois was the only school in the nation to have a player win the National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award in both 2011 and 2012. Additionally, Northern Illinois joined Duke, Penn State and Nebraska as one of only four schools in the country to place four players on the 2012 Capital One Academic All-District Team for its region.

The Shawnee Mission, Kansas, native posted a 23-4 overall record with a 17-1 mark against MAC opponents during his time at NIU. His prolific offense scored 40 points or more 16 times in 27 games. In 2012 alone, the program averaged 40.8 points per game during the regular season and ranked in the Top 15 nationally in fourth down conversions (2nd), rushing offense (9th), scoring offense (10th), 3rd down conversions (15th), and total offense (15th).

Prior to his stint in DeKalb, Doeren spent five seasons in the Big Ten at Wisconsin, where he served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. During Doeren's time in Madison, the Badgers posted a 49-15 overall mark and played in the Champs Sports Bowl twice, the Outback Bowl, the Capital One Bowl and the Rose Bowl.

For his first two seasons in Madison, he served as co-defensive coordinator/recruiting coordinator/linebackers coach and in 2008, was named the primary defensive coordinator. His UW defenses were consistently ranked in the top 25 in NCAA defensive categories. In 2010, Wisconsin ranked 20th in total defense and in the top 30 in both rushing and scoring defense. In 2009, the Badgers led the Big Ten and ranked fifth in the country in rushing defense, holding each of their last 10 opponents to less than 100 yards rushing - the longest streak in school history. Wisconsin led the nation in pass efficiency defense in 2006 and was the No. 2 scoring defense in the country.

His pupils at Wisconsin included National Football League linebackers Jonathan Casillas of the New Orleans Saints and DeAndre Levy, the Detroit Lions' middle linebacker. Badgers' linebacker Chris Borland earned 2009 Big Ten Defensive Freshman of the Year honors.

Doeren arrived at Wisconsin after four seasons (2002-05) at the University of Kansas, where he served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator for three seasons before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator under head coach Mark Mangino. The Jayhawks led the Big 12 Conference and ranked No. 3 nationally in rushing defense and No. 11 nationally in total defense in 2005.

During Doeren's time at Kansas, the Jayhawks ended a seven-year bowl drought, earning bids to the 2003 Tangerine Bowl and the 2005 Ft. Worth Bowl. The opponent in that first bowl appearance was a Philip Rivers-led NC State team. At his introductory press conference at NC State, Doeren recalled how the passion of the Wolfpack fan base made an impression on him then that he never forgot, 10 years before he was named the Pack's head coach.

He coached Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year Nick Reid, who was also a third-team All-American and four of his players won academic all-conference honors.

In 2000 and 2001, Doeren coached the secondary at NCAA Division I-AA (now Football Championship Subdivision) powerhouse Montana, also serving as the Grizzlies' recruiting coordinator for one year. Montana advanced to the the I-AA national championship game in 2000, losing by two points, but returned to win the national title the following season. The Grizzlies posted a 28-3 record and won two Big Sky Conference championships in his two years with the program and he coached five All-Americans, four All-Big Sky performers and two league defensive MVPs.

"LINED THE FIELDS AND DRIVEN THE BUS"

Doeren grew up right outside of Kansas City, where he was a big fan of the Royals' George Brett and the Chiefs' Dino Hackett. He also grew up watching his grandfather, Thomas Glennon, coach high school basketball and track. He loved the respect his grandfather commanded from his players, even after he retired from coaching.

When he left for college at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, his goals were to play football, earn a pre-med degree, go to med school and become an orthopedic doctor. He accomplished the first two.

He lettered at tight end for the Bulldogs, catching 19 catches for 237 yards for his career. He majored in pre-medical biology, earning Academic All-American as a senior. He took the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT). His plans for the future changed, however, during the summer between his junior and senior years when his former coach at Bishop Miege High School asked him to lead seven-on-seven drills.

"It was the most fun three hours of my life," he remembered. "I knew from that moment I was going to be a coach. I didn't know how long it would take, but I knew it was what I wanted to do."

Doeren has pursued that goal with a relentlessness that has never wavered. Instead of heading to med school, he landed his first coaching job in 1994, right there in Kansas at Shawnee Mission High School.

His collegiate coaching career began just a year later, when he was named an assistant coach at Drake, leading the linebackers from 1995-97 before adding defensive coordinator chores in 1997. He had one of his players earn All-Pioneer League honors two of his three years on his alma mater's staff.

Doeren got his first taste of a bowl experience as a defensive graduate assistant at the University of Southern California when the Trojans played in the 1998 Sun Bowl. The Trojans led the nation in interceptions that year with 24, while the 1999 squad led the nation in turnover margin. Doeren earned a Master's degree in educational leadership.

*Led 2012 NIU team to Orange Bowl bid, but did not coach in the bowl game.

“I’M FIRED UP ABOUT IT”

Anyone who watched Northern Illinois’ double-overtime victory over Kent State in the 2012 MAC Championship game on Nov. 30, 2012, saw a head coach on the Husky sideline who was all in. On Friday night, he led his squad to that 44-37 victory, celebrated with his team as they received the league championship trophy and then boarded a bus for the all-night ride back from Detroit to DeKalb.

Just a couple of hours later, Wolfpack Director of Athletics Debbie Yow was waiting to talk to him about becoming the Wolfpack’s next head coach. By Sunday afternoon, he was decked out in Wolfpack gear, with all of his attention turned to his new squad as he watched the team’s first bowl practice in Raleigh and began to access recruiting needs.

While his former team was celebrating its unprecedented bid to the Orange Bowl, Doeren was standing in front of the NC State media, talking about why he had no regrets.

“I had a great job,” Doeren, the youngest football coach in the ACC, said. “I wasn’t going to leave for a place that wasn’t special and I felt that way about NC State.”

In his first few weeks as the leader of the Pack, Doeren recruited and hired a staff, audited several practices, called every prospect who had already committed to the Wolfpack and met with his returning players. His new staff was relentless on the recruiting trail, bringing in a class that fit the program’s needs under his new system.

When Doeren met with his new team on the day he was introduced to the NC State community, he told them, “You didn’t pick me, I picked you. I love what I do and I’m all in.”

He also told his new charges to expect to his other great passion around the program frequently: his family. Doeren met his wife Sara while he was coaching at Drake and she was a nursing student. The couple has three sons: Jacob (15), Luke (12) and Connor (8).

Ten receivers, an all-conference left tackle and an all-league quarterback (Lewis). Chappell led the Big Ten in passing yards, completions and attempts in 2010 while setting the Indiana single-season records in all three categories. Lewis set the Indiana school record for career passing touchdowns and established new single-season marks for passing yards, passing touchdowns and total yards as the 2007 Hoosiers scored a school-record 412 points under Canada's direction. During his seven years in Seattle, he was responsible for all aspects of the team's travel, including the budget, team charters, hotel accommodations, meal arrangements and ground transportation. Nayas also organized the Seahawks' training camp and mini-camps, as well as the team's operational schedules.

Nayas was originally hired in a full-time capacity by the Green Bay Packers in 1997 after serving as a training camp intern during the summers of 1995 and 1996. He worked under Holmgren as administrative assistant/football operations until 1999.

Nayas served as a student football manager at Wisconsin before moving into a football operations assistant role upon graduation. During his career, he has been a part of six college bowl games, four international games and seven NFL postseason appearances, including three Super Bowls.

Nayas graduated with a B.S. degree from Wisconsin in 1994. He and his wife, Paige, have a daughter, Natalia (9), and a son, Joe (6).

Koren Robinson's three touchdown receptions against Georgia Tech in 2000 tied a Carter-Finley Stadium record.

Bill Cowher, who went on to coach the Pittsburgh Steelers, still holds the record for most tackles in Carter-Finley Stadium with 24. He tallied that number twice in his career.

WOLFPACK LEGENDS

HONORED/RETIRED JERSEYS

18 ROMAN GABRIEL (QB)

At NC State: A two-time All-American, Roman Gabriel starred at quarterback for NC State in the early 1960s and finished his career holding virtually every Wolfpack passing record. An academic All-American,

Gabriel saw his jersey retired and presented to him by Governor Terry Sanford on Jan. 20, 1962 at halftime of an NC State-Maryland basketball game in Reynolds Coliseum. A first-round draft pick by the Los Angeles Rams, he went on to a distinguished professional career.

In the Professional Ranks: Gabriel played 15 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Los Angeles Rams (1962-72) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-77). He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969 and earned Pro Bowl spots in 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1970. He was the MVP of the 1970 Pro Bowl. He ranked as the Rams' all-time passing leader with 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns (1,705 com./3,313 att.) and threw for 7,221 yards and 45 touchdowns (661 com./1,185 att.) with the Eagles. In 1973, he led the NFL with 3,219 yards and 23 touchdown passes. He still holds the Rams' career records for: touchdown passes (154), passing yards (22,223), passes attempted (3,313), and passes completed (1,705). Gabriel was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

51 JIM RITCHER (OL)

At NC State: Jim Ritcher is one of three Atlantic Coast Conference players to win the Outland Trophy, awarded annually to the nation's premier lineman. A two-time consensus All-American, Ritcher won the award as a Wolfpack senior in 1979, when he literally cleared the way for NC State to win the ACC Championship. Still an active member of the Wolfpack family, Ritcher, whose sons John and Harrison both played for NC State, thrived in the NFL for 16 years, playing in four Super Bowls with the Buffalo Bills. Ritcher's No. 51 was retired on Feb. 8, 1987. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.

In the Professional Ranks: A first-round draft choice in 1980, Ritcher went on to play 16 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Buffalo Bills (1980-93) and the Atlanta Falcons (1994-95). An All-Pro choice in 1986, 1988, and 1990, Ritcher played in the 1992 and 1993 Pro Bowls. He also played in four Super Bowls with Buffalo and played in more games than any other Buffalo Bill (225). He was inducted into the Buffalo Hall of Fame in 2005 and was the recipient of the Gerald R. Ford Legends Award in 2009.

40 DICK CHRISTY (HB)

At NC State: Scoring all 29 of NC State's points, Dick Christy earned the Wolfpack its first Atlantic Coast Conference Championship in a 29-26 win in the Pack's season-finale at South Carolina on Nov. 23, 1957. Christy earned first team All-America recognition from the Associated Press and United Press International for his efforts that season. He ended his career in '57 holding 14 NC State records and four ACC records. Nearly 40 years later, Christy's jersey was retired on Nov. 8, 1997 in a game against Maryland. NC STATE UNIVERSITY

CHANCELLOR

DR. RANDY WOODSON

Dr. Randy Woodson is the 14th chancellor of North Carolina State University. A nationally recognized leader in bridging the gap between vision and action, he has led the development and implementation of the university's strategic plan to improve student success, faculty excellence, and engagement and economic development. In addition to this transformative plan, Woodson has led a strategic realignment to mold the university for greater efficiency and effectiveness in the face of decreasing resources. His reputation for consensus-building has given voice to a diverse university community, creating opportunities for multi-disciplinary collaboration and unifying university constituents to focus on enhancing student success and the value of an NC State degree. These shifts will continue to guide the university as it unites and adapts a cherished tradition with the constantly evolving landscape of higher education.

During his tenure Woodson has overseen the largest private gift in university history. Through the creation of the Faculty Excellence Fund Woodson has inspired inventive faculty research rewarding creativity and entrepreneurship. Under his leadership, NC State remains the 3rd best value among public universities in the U.S. and, according to a Wall Street Journal study, ranks 19th overall by recruiters for nearly 500 public and private corporations, non-profits and federal agencies across the nation.

Woodson arrived at NC State from Purdue University, where he served as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost. He took on the role of provost in 2008, after serving nearly four years as the Glenn W. Sample Dean of Agriculture. Prior to that, Woodson was the associate dean of agriculture and director of the Office of Agricultural Research Programs at Purdue from 1998 to 2004.

Woodson's career has been shaped by the land-grant university system, receiving a B.S. in Horticulture from the University of Arkansas and a M.S. and Ph.D. in Plant Physiology from Cornell University. He joined the Purdue faculty in 1985 as an assistant professor in the Department of Horticulture. Prior to his administrative appointments, Woodson also served as head of the Department of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture at Purdue and was a visiting scholar at the École Nationale Supérieure Agronomique de Toulouse in France.

Over his decades-long career in higher education, Dr. Woodson has contributed a substantial body of knowledge to the field of plant science, which has been published in over 100 journal articles and book chapters. His research has covered topics such as plant genetics, molecular biology, biotechnology and sustainable bioproducts development, spanning the gap between the detailed science of plant physiology and the practical application of this knowledge in the field of horticulture. His research has been featured in stories published in BusinessWeek, The Futurist, and Discover.

Woodson has received a number of professional honors during his career, including the Purdue University Agriculture Research Award, the American Society for Horticultural Science Outstanding Researcher Career Award and the Sagamore of the Wabash Award, the highest award presented by the governor of Indiana for service. He is a fellow of the American Society for Horticultural Science.

Woodson and his wife, Susan, have three adult children.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

DEBORAH A. YOW

When Deborah A. Yow was hired to be NC State's director of athletics on June 25, 2010, her goal was to make the department she inherited one of the best in the nation.

In four years, she has taken many steps to accomplish that goal by recalibrating competitive and academic expectations. Working closely with her senior staff, she has ensured that financial resources for teams have improved dramatically and that coaches are encouraged to recruit the best prospects available – in both character and competitive achievement.

The Wolfpack's program of 23 varsity sports has made remarkable improvement in its national standing in the NACDA Director's Cup, a measure of competitive accomplishments for all NCAA varsity sports. From 2010-12, the school made the biggest single jump of any ACC school in the 20-year history of the rankings, improving from No. 89 to No. 37.

In the 2012-13 academic year, NC State moved up to No. 34 in the Director's Cup, as a record 18 sports were represented in postseason play. NC State was one of only three NCAA institutions in the nation to have their football team play in a bowl game, their men's basketball team play in the NCAA Tournament, and their baseball team participate in the College World Series. UCLA and Louisville were the others.

Among the competitive highlights of 2013-14, sophomore wrestler Nick Gwiazdowski won the Heavyweight title at the NCAA Championships, becoming the Wolfpack's 30th individual national champion and the sixth wrestler to bring home a title. NC State was among only seven percent of the nation's 351 Division I programs that sent both their men's and women's basketball to the NCAA Tournament. Sophomore T.J. Warren became the sixth Wolfpack men's player to be named ACC Player of the Year and was selected with the 14th pick in the first round of the NBA draft by the Phoenix Suns. In fact, NC State was one of just four schools in 2013-14 (along with UConn, Stanford, and Louisville) to have a student-athlete drafted in the NFL, NBA, MLB, WNBA and MLS. Additionally, the women's golf team enjoyed its highest NCAA Championship finish in history (10th) and softball advanced to its second consecutive NCAA Regional Championship.

In her first four years on the job, Yow has made significant changes to the structure, branding and outcomes of the athletics department.

She has hired nine new head coaches: men's basketball coach Mark Gottfried, men's soccer coach Kelly Findley, women's soccer coach Tim Santoro, men's and women's swimming coach Braden Holloway (a former NC State swimmer), wrestling coach Pat Popolizio, softball coach Shawn Rychcik, football coach Dave Doeren, women's basketball coach Wes Moore and renowned women's tennis coach Simon Earnshaw.

These new coaches are beginning to accomplish extraordinary things in recruiting and in NCAA competition. Gottfried has led the men's basketball program to three NCAA Championship appearances in his first three seasons, including a Sweet Sixteen appearance. Holloway was named the 2013 ACC Coach of the Year after leading the men's swimming team to a No. 15 finish at the NCAA championship, its highest since 1978-79, and the team was named the national "Breakout Team of the Season" in the prestigious College Swimming and Diving Honors Program. Rychcik, in his first two seasons, guided the Wolfpack softball team to the ACC title and two NCAA regional championship game appearances. And Moore was named the ESPNW's ACC Coach of the Year in leading his initial Wolfpack squad to 25 wins, a Top 10 national ranking and an NCAA Tournament berth.

Senior administration has been geared to oversee the implementation of her vision for the Wolfpack's future success. She has also helped change the face of NC State athletics with overall improvements and upgrades to administrative and competitive facilities on campus, working closely with the Wolfpack Club leadership.

The department has established Wolfpack Sports Properties in a new working agreement for multi-media rights with Learfield Communications and Capital Broadcasting Co.; a department-wide apparel agreement with Adidas; and a new Five-Year Strategic Plan. She also led in the creation of the comprehensive NC State Athletic Hall of Fame, which inducted 10 members in its inaugural class in 2012 and added another 10 members each in 2013 and '14.

This summer, construction began on a $14 million indoor football practice facility. Yow also announced a major renovation for Reynolds Coliseum, the home of multiple Wolfpack sports. In a joint venture with the university, a $35 million renovation will begin after the 2014-15 women's basketball season to reconfigure the coliseum and to create a Walk of Fame and History to honor NC State's athletic legacy in all sports and to have a permanent home for its Hall of Fame.

Hardly unfamiliar to Wolfpack fans, the native of Gibsonville, N.C., has been deeply connected to NC State since her youth, when her parents Hilton and Lib Yow introduced their three daughters and one son to college athletics. At the time, that meant legendary basketball coach Everett Case's fast-breaking style that dominated the early days of ACC basketball.

Later, she watched her older sister, Kay, become the first full-time women's coach in the state of North Carolina, when she was hired by then-athletics director Willis Casey to coach NC State's first three women's sports: basketball, volleyball and softball. Her first all-star, and the first women's All-American in NC State history, was the youngest of the Yow sisters, Susan.

Yow served as a high school coach at Burlington's Williams High School and Gibsonville's Eastern Guilford High before becoming the women's basketball coach at the University of Kentucky. She also served as the head coach at Oral Roberts University and the University of Florida, before switching career paths to become an administrator, at both Florida and UNC Greensboro. In 1990, she was named the athletics director at Saint Louis, where she hired Charlie Spoonhour as men's basketball coach. In his first season, Spoonhour was named ESPN National Coach of the Year.

She moved to the University of Maryland in 1994 and in 2000 selected Ralph Friedgen as football coach. Friedgen was named consensus National Coach of the Year in 2001 after leading the Terps to the ACC championship and an appearance in the Orange Bowl. In 2002, she brought in Brenda Frese, the 2002 Big Ten and AP National Coach of the Year, to guide the Terrapin women's basketball program. In 2006, Frese led Maryland to the NCAA championship.

Under her leadership, Maryland's 27 varsity programs won a remarkable 20 national championships and consistently graduated student-athletes, including an all-time high federal graduation rate of 80 percent. In 2009, the NCAA News named Maryland as one of the Top 10 athletics programs in the nation.

At NC State, Yow oversees a department that includes approximately 185 full-time staff and 525 student-athletes.

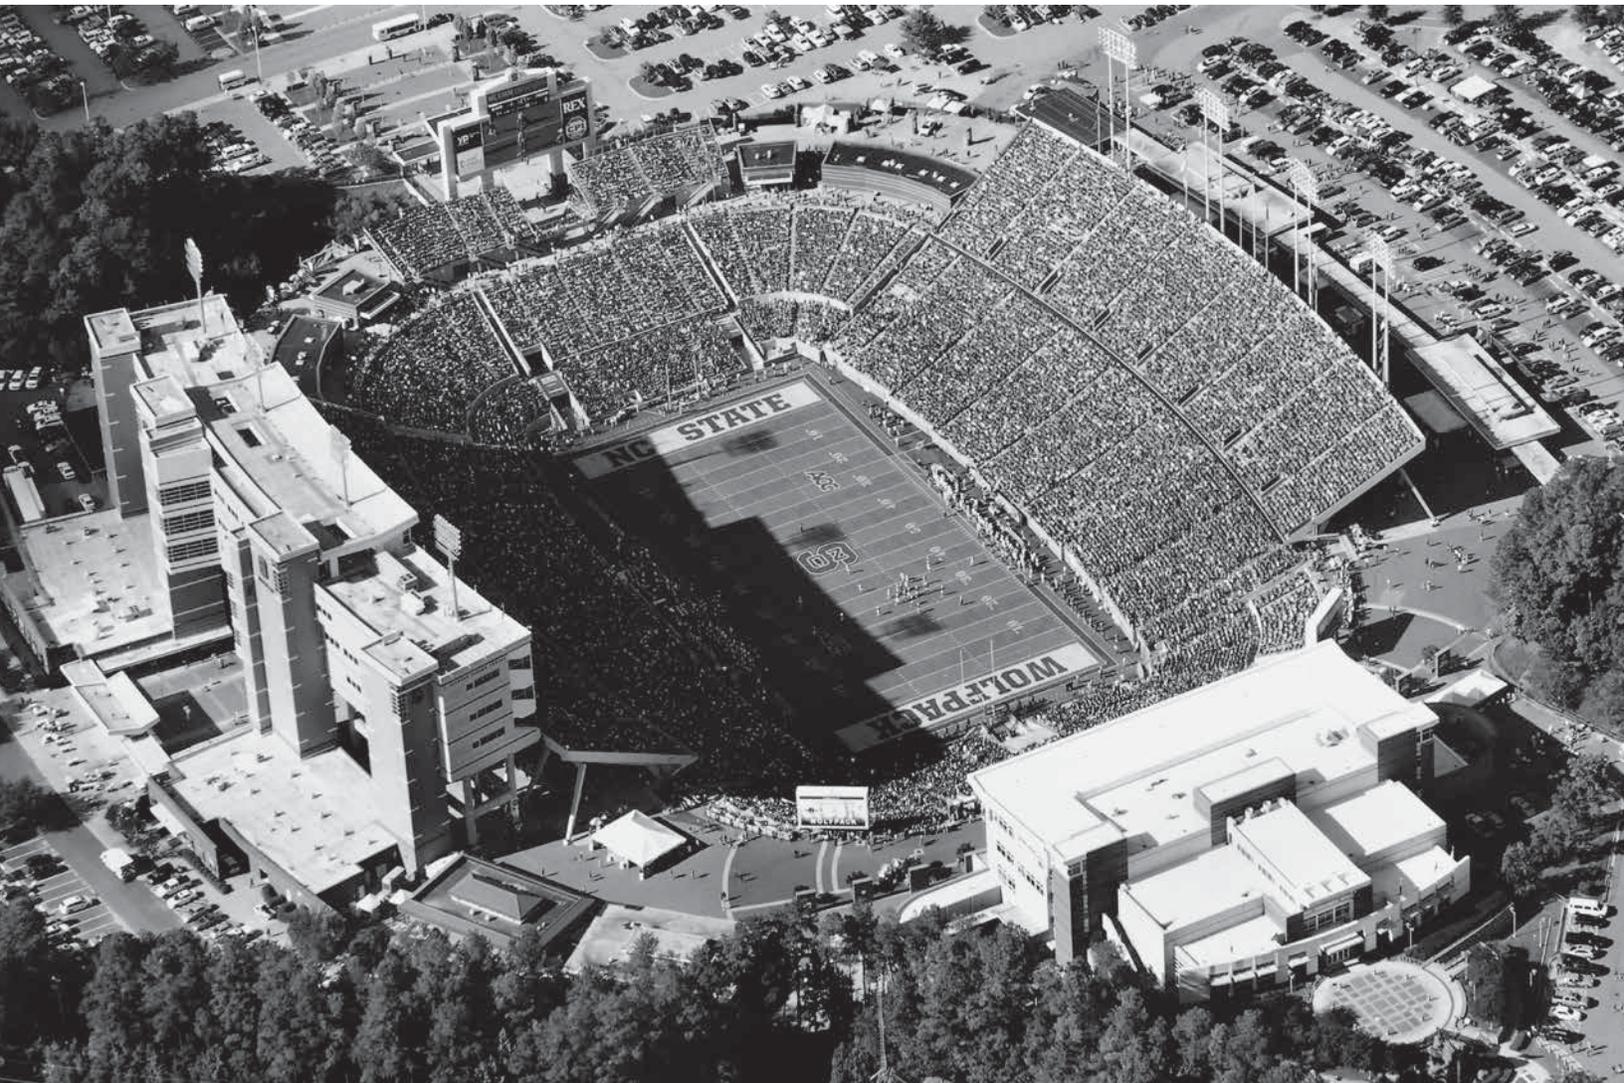

Yow has served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the national Division I-A Athletic Directors Association. She is a member of the National Football Foundation board of directors, and has served on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Committee, as well as having represented the ACC on the NCAA Management Council.

Both Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal and the Chronicle of Higher Education have cited Yow as being one of the 20 most influential people in college athletics. She was selected to serve on the President's U.S. Department of Education Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She earlier served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television, which is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and other related broadcast issues.

Like her older sister, Yow has been inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame.

Yow has written numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior. She holds a bachelor's degree from Elon University and a master's degree from Liberty University. She also has been awarded honorary doctorates for professional achievement from Elon, Liberty and the United States Sports Academy. She is married to Dr. William W. Bowden.

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

One of the landmarks of North Carolina's capital city, Carter-Finley Stadium has gained a national reputation as being one of the toughest places to play. In its 49th year of existence, Carter-Finley Stadium boasts 57,583 permanent seats and is surrounded by acres convenient parking. The south end zone is the home of the 103,254 square-foot Murphy Center, which is unequalled in its design for the training and preparation of athletes.

The Wolfpack squad practices just a stone's throw away at the Dail Practice Complex. This area covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a video/coaching tower.

The A.E. Finley Fieldhouse in the north end zone houses two spacious, state-of-the-art locker rooms that can be divided into smaller locker rooms when NC State plays host to high school championship games. There are also halftime locker room areas for the cheerleaders, the dance team, game referees and coaches.

Rising above the fieldhouse is the 100'x40' HD scoreboard.

C. Richard Vaughn Towers

Vaughn Towers dominates the skyline around Carter-Finley Stadium as it rises above the west stands. The 117,000 square-foot structure, which stretches from endzone to endzone, includes four levels, 51 private luxury suites and 955 club seats, as well as a University Suite for the Chancellor. The state-of-the-art facility also includes accommodations for the media, with 112 press seats.

The facility is named for Richard Vaughn, a resident of Mount Airy, who graduated from NC State with a degree in nuclear engineering.

Named for Wolfpack alumnus Wayne T. Day in 2002, the playing surface at Carter-Finley Stadium was reconstructed in 2009. The new playing surface is built to USGA specifications for a golf green. The USGA specification has an elaborate drainage system and a 10" rootzone mix that is 90% sand and 10% peat. The field has Tiftway 419 hybrid bermudagrass from Sandhills turf farm in North Carolina. The irrigation system consists of 6 "big gun" sprinklers that spray over 200 gallons per minute. The water source is well water that is contained in tanks

THE WENDELL H. MURPHY FOOTBALL CENTER

The 103,254-square-foot Wendell H. Murphy Center houses every aspect of Wolfpack football, from sports medicine, to equipment, to strength training, to academics. As functional as it is aesthetically pleasing, the Murphy Center is definitely the Wolfpack's den.

The Murphy Center (known as "The Murph" to the Wolfpack players) is among the largest operations facilities in the country devoted solely to football. Visitors enter the building through Gant Plaza, where the 28' "Wolfpack Turf" statue and fountain stands proudly. The center is open year round during the week from 8am-5pm for visitors, with tours available by contacting the athletic department in advance.

Visitors to the Murphy Center can experience the rich heritage of Wolfpack Football in the Finley Hall of Champions. This multimedia complex highlights NC State's football tradition with photos, artifacts and interactive exhibits. Fans can watch video highlights in the Woolard Theater and younger Wolfpackers can have fun in the Junior Wolfpack Zone.

From the lobby, double doors open into the massive Gunter Family strength training facility, which runs the entire length of the building and covers 15,000 square-feet. The facility houses huge area for stretching, a track, a juice bar and over 15 tons of weights.

The third floor of the Murphy Center houses a large dining room and a players' lounge that overlooks Wayne Day Family Field. The lounge contains couches, pool tables, ping-pong tables, wide-screen TVs and video games for the Wolfpack players to enjoy during breaks.

A large team meeting room and meeting rooms for each position are also on the third floor. Each room is equipped with the latest video playback equipment for reviewing film and breaking down an athlete's performance. That level also houses offices for the Wolfpack's academic advisors, as well as a large study room with computers in the Kirkland Academic Suite.

On the fourth floor, the coaches' offices, a large staff conference room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, a television studio and the video production offices can be found.

The heartbeat of the Murphy Center is on the bottom floor. The beautiful locker room stretches the length of the building on one side of the hall, boasting 114 custom wood lockers, bathrooms, showers, a stereo and TVs. The other side of the hall is home to the equipment room and the state-of-the-art sports medicine facility, which covers 6,000 square feet and includes an aquatics area with three pools.

The building is named for Wendell H. Murphy, a lifelong supporter of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State. A member of the NC State Board of Trustees, Murphy was awarded the prestigious Watauga Medal in 1999, the school's highest award given for outstanding and distinguished service.

WOLFPACK TURF:

Former Wolfpack football player and master sculptor Dick Idol, created the "Wolfpack Turf" monument, which rises from the plaza in front of the Murphy Center. The statue is made up of six wolves, each two-times life size, standing on a 21-foot stone mountain.

Each wolf on the sculpture has a name which represents one of the characteristics of a wolf and of a Wolfpack football player: Confidence, Passion, Spirit, Courage, Pride and Strength.

ESPN.COM RANKED NC STATE'S FOOTBALL FACILITIES THE BEST IN THE ACC.

The Wolfpack Sports Network, one of the strongest collegiate sports networks in the nation, will be heard for the 53rd year throughout North Carolina and globally via GoPack.com's All-Access multimedia channel during the 2012 football season.

The network is managed by Wolfpack Sports Properties, a joint venture between Learfield Sports and Raleigh's Capitol Broadcasting Company. It covers three of the 45 largest radio markets in the country and is made up of over 20 affiliates that effectively blanket the state from the mountains to the coast. The flagship station is the powerful WRAL-FM, MIX 101.5 in Raleigh.

All the action is brought to the devoted Wolfpack listeners by veteran play-by-play man and former North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year, Gary Hahn, who is in his 25th season as the voice of the Wolfpack. Joining Hahn in the booth is former Wolfpack All-American Johnny Evans, who provides color commentary. NC STATE UNIVERSITY

NC State is a 127-year-old comprehensive public research university globally recognized for leadership in discovering new knowledge, educating the next generation for the use of that knowledge, and applying that knowledge for the benefit of society.

- With over 34,000 students, NC State educates more North Carolinians than any other university.
- U.S. News & World Report ranks NC State as one of the top five public university values in the country, and as a top-20 “up-and-comer,” recognizing its rising national profile.
- NC State’s graduates leave ready to succeed in the workforce. The Wall Street Journal ranks NC State graduates among the top 20 most desired by business recruiters.
- NC State and its alumni provide $7.3 billion in annual economic impact for the state.

HUNT LIBRARY

The bold design of the Hunt Library is a visual statement of its bold purpose: to be a place not of the past but of the future, a place where our students, faculty, and partners can gather to research, learn, experiment, collaborate, and strengthen NC State’s long tradition of leading transformative change.

The Hunt Library and the adjacent parking deck, campus infrastructure, and stream restoration were constructed with $115.2 million in state appropriations, plus donor support. The state-funded cost for the building itself was $93.75 million.

The robot-driven bookBot automated book delivery system holds up to 2 million volumes in 1/9 the space of conventional shelving, enabling the library to provide more space for learning and collaboration. The bookBot is 50 feet wide by 160 feet long by 50 feet tall and is excavated 20 feet below the first floor.

The Boston Globe named the Hunt Library one of its “5 novel libraries” in April 2013.

CENTENNIAL CAMPUS

NC State’s Centennial Campus is the premier university research campus in the country, where industry and government partners work alongside faculty, staff, post-docs and students in state-of-the-art research and development facilities.

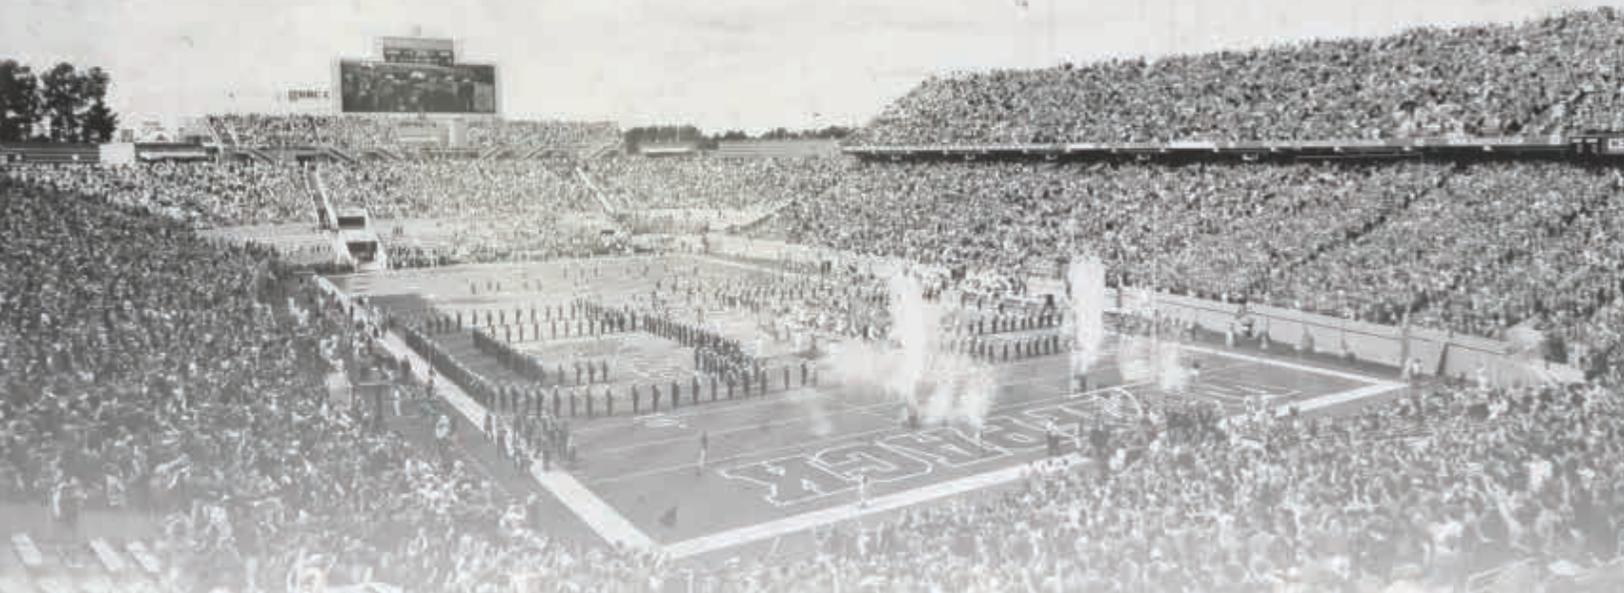

Here is just a sampling of the resources available to partners on Centennial:

- The fourth largest engineering undergraduate program in the U.S.
